HOGSMILL WALK

A walk along part of the Hogsmill Valley to Tolworth Court Farm.

Distance: Approx 4 miles.

Typical time: Approx 2 hours.

Rating: The walk is largely flat with some hills. Suitable footwear should be worn as some paths may be muddy.

Transport:

Train: Kingston Station. Berrylands Station.
Bus: 465.

Directions:

- Start at the Hogsmill Bridge, near the junction of Chapel Mill Road and Villiers Road. Walk south down Villiers Road until you get to a mini roundabout where you turn left into Lower Marsh Lane, and continue along to Berrylands Station.
- At Berrylands Station go up Chiltern Drive and left down Surbiton Hill Park to reach the Hogsmill River Park. Follow the path to the Hogsmill River, turn right by a concrete footbridge, and cross a wooden footbridge over Tolworth Brook. Bear left through the meadows and follow the Hogsmill River to the A3.
- Cross the A3 via the subway up the road to the right. Turn left out of the subway, cross the river and take a small gate to the right to follow the river through some more meadows.
- Continue straight over a tarmac path, under a railway bridge. Follow the path around to the left up a hill. At the top turn right through a wooden gate and pass the church of St John the Baptist.
- At Barrow Hill carry straight on down Royal Avenue. At Grafton Road turn right, go downhill and right down Cromwell Road to reach the Hogsmill Pub.
- Cross over Old Malden Lane, cross over the river and immediately left along the path beside the river to the Kingston Road, which you cross to reach Tolworth Court Farm.
