Fassett Road Floating Support Scheme

A guide to Kingston's floating Support for Young Parents
(16 years to 22 years)

WHAT IS FLOATING

SUPPORT?

Floating Support is an outreach support scheme for young parents who are living independently but whom require some level of housing and tenancy support.

The Royal Borough of Kingston Upon Thames receive their funding via a Supporting People grant (a grant provided to fund support around housing and tenancy issues).

There are six available spaces with our specialist floating support worker and support will take place in the community.

ELIGIBILITY CRITERIA :

-  Young parents between 16 - 22 years
-  Applicants must reside in a Kingston council or RSL (registered social landlord) tenancy
-  Applicants must be in need of housing and tenancy support
-  Applicants need to be in need of general support and guidance
-  Applicants need to be willing to engage with the floating support

SUPPORT :

Floating Support aims to offer a support service concentrating on housing and tenancy issues. This support will be offered in the community

-  Support and guidance around:
 - Sustaining tenancy
 - Budgeting
 - Neighborhood relations
 - Benefits and entitlements
 - Accessing appropriate community provision
 - General practical and emotional support to build confidence and independence skills
-  Support will not continue unless there are ongoing housing and or tenancy issues.
- Support will not continue if the client does not wish to engage in the support being offered via the floating support scheme.
