

Thought For the Week

many children across the UK are being bullied or are bullies themselves. lots of children are bullied because they look different or because they are weak. They usually can't want to tell anyone because they think it would be worse if they do. There are lots of charities that help to expand stop bullying inside and outside of schools.

There are so many types of bullying from mental, physical and emotional bullying and its are chance to help many children to own up and admit that something is wrong otherwise all its going to do is carry on all we want to know is how far people do that and we ourselves what do you think?

Thought For the Week

To think about the children who's dads are fighting and who don't have any food or anywhere to stay safe. The mothers who can't do anything for their children. Also the children who can't go out and play because of the danger.
