

Twilight Night

The Rose Theatre, Kingston upon Thames.
Wednesday 8th July 5pm – 8pm. Tickets £4.00 (performers free)

...Calling all Twilight Fans...

The Rose Theatre is holding a Twilight Night on Wednesday 8th July as part of the International Youth Festival, and we're looking for young people to participate in this event. If you can act, sing, design clothes or merchandise, write, make films or take photos based on the Twilight books by Stephenie Meyer we'd like to hear from you. Would you like to perform in front of other Twilight fans or have your work put on display for them to see? Take a look at the categories below to get some ideas.

Drama: Could you be Bella or Edward and act out your favourite scene? Or write your own.

Art: Create a picture of your favourite character or design a film poster or alternative book cover.

Music: Do you have Richard Pattinson's song-writing talents? Can you write a song for Bella or Edward, or a soundtrack for New Moon?

Costume & Merchandise: Design an outfit, T shirt or piece of Twilight merchandise. You can submit the finished piece or put your fashion drawings on display.

Writing: Was there a scene in the books that you would have written differently, or an extra scene which should have been in there? Could you write one?

Film Making: Can you create your own New Moon film trailer? Look on You Tube for examples of people who've done their own. Or create a Powerpoint of atmospheric images, quotes and music that we could show.

Photography: Be the film director. Can you find some good locations for New Moon or Eclipse? Take your best moody photos of people and places and send them in.

There will be Twilight prizes for the best entries in each category
