DEVELOPMENT COMMITTEE

3 APRIL 1991

PROPOSED DESIGNATION OF THE SURBITON TOWN CENTRE CONSERVATION AREA
(INCORPORATING PARTS OF EXISTING CONSERVATION AREAS)REPORT BY DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENTPURPOSE

1. This report proposes the designation of a new conservation area to be known as Surbiton Town Centre Conservation Area, which would be an amalgamation of the commercial parts of three existing conservation areas together with some additional commercial buildings within Surbiton Town Centre. The designation should be preceded by consultation exercise. The proposal is a mechanism for progressing the revitalization of Surbiton town centre and promoting the English Heritage Partnership. Grant scheme which are the subject of a progress report on this agenda.

BACKGROUND

2. It is the duty of every local planning authority under Section 69 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act 1990 to "determine which parts of their area are areas of special architectural or historic interest the character or appearance of which it is desirable to preserve or enhance, and" to "designate those areas as conservation areas". Additionally there is a duty "to review the past exercise" and "to determine whether any parts or any further parts of the area should be designated as conservation areas".
3. In accordance with policy UD3 (Designation of New Conservation Areas) of the Kingston upon Thames Plan and policy STR9 of the Draft Unitary Plan the boundaries of three existing conservation areas which incorporate parts of Surbiton Town Centre have been reviewed. The background research and proposal the subject of this report has evolved from investigations undertaken as part of the Surbiton Revitalisation Project and in response to the objectives set by the Surbiton Revitalisation Advisory Working Party. A Surbiton Revitalisation progress report can be found elsewhere on this agenda and sets the wider context for this proposal.
4. The report proposes the designation of a new conservation area to be known as Surbiton Town Centre Conservation Area. A 1:1250 ordnance survey plan of the area proposed and photographs illustrating the architectural and townscape features which the designation seeks to safeguard will be available at the meeting. An unscaled map (91/034/B) showing the proposed boundary and the properties within existing conservation areas is attached.

THE EXISTING CONSERVATION AREAS

5. The Surbiton District Centre boundary as defined in the inset map in the Kingston upon Thames Local Plan incorporates parts of three existing conservation areas.

These are: - i) Claremont Road, designated on 21 October 1987, and including the north side of Victoria Road between St Mary Road and St James Road and most of Claremont Road; ii) St Andrews Square designated on 4 March 1971 and extended on 21 October 1987 to include 50-58 Brighton Road amongst other buildings and iii) Victoria Avenue designated on 25 July 1988 and including 1-63 Brighton Road. These areas are identified as "Existing Conservation Areas" on the attached map.

6. The designation of these conservation areas was part of an extensive and swift process of designations in the latter part of the 1980s following the adoption of the Borough Plan and the identification of numerous Local Areas of Special Character. The individual conservation areas were considered to be homogenous in character. For example, Claremont Road represents the historic core of Surbiton forming the mid-nineteenth century new town created around the station, whereas St Andrews Square generally represents the late nineteenth century residential development and Victoria Avenue is a coherent development of residential and commercial properties all of a similar design built over a short period between 1890 and 1905. However, the development of the commercial core of Surbiton is more complex and it has become apparent that some fine commercial buildings which as a group are considered to be of special architectural or historic interest are not included in any of the existing conservation areas. These buildings have been researched and are considered to be of a character and appearance that relates most directly to the commercial parts of the three existing conservation areas.

THE HISTORIC DEVELOPMENT OF SURBITON

7. An understanding of the historic development of Surbiton Town Centre gives an insight to its character today. The first edition of the ordnance survey map demonstrates that by 1865 both sides of Victoria Road, Claremont Road and the north side of Brighton Road were lined with terraced and semi-detached houses giving the town a residential dormitory town character. The only commercial and industrial premises were to be found in the rear yards on the south side of Victoria Road adjacent to and probably benefiting from close proximity to the railway lines. By the turn of the century Surbiton had changed its character to a commercial centre with the conversion of houses to retail and commercial units, the development of purpose-built commercial units such as on the west side of Brighton Road and the redevelopment of existing houses for commercial uses as seen on the east side of Claremont Road and the Post Office in Victoria Road. It would appear that from the 1920s the south side of Victoria Road started on a course of extensive redevelopment. This is probably a natural course of events resulting from the lower status of the original building fabric and uses flanking the railway lines. Today only 6 narrow fronted properties dating from the mid nineteenth century survive amounting to less than 10% of this frontage. Otherwise redevelopment in Surbiton Town Centre since the 1920s has been limited to a few small infill sites which do not have a major effect on the historic character of the area.

THE PROPOSED ADDITIONAL BUILDINGS WORTHY OF CONSERVATION AREA DESIGNATION

8. The buildings not currently included in a conservation area which are considered to be "areas of special architectural or historic interest" include three distinct groups.

These are the blank areas on the attached map and are described below:

- i) 18-48 Brighton Road
The main part of this terrace, Nos 22-38, are part of a formal composition of the earliest houses in Surbiton Town Centre dating from circa 1840. The houses were converted into shops at around the turn of the century with the addition of front extension to Nos 28-38 only. The terrace has a strong classical rhythm and roofline but has suffered from some unsympathetic replacement window frames and loss of architectural ironwork. Nos 18 and 20 form part of the fine Arts and Crafts style shop and workshop dating from 1915 which provides a handsome corner feature to the Victoria Road junction. Nos 40-48 are a 1980s infill block included to provide a continuous frontage only.
- ii) 32-48 Victoria Road
Nos 34-48 are a small scale informal group of Victorian buildings. Nos 34-37 and 39-45 were built in the mid nineteenth century as semi-detached houses and were converted to shops in the late nineteenth century mainly by building single storey front extensions. The domestic scale and detailing of the upper floors is relieved by the fine facade to the Post Office providing a good example of public building architecture from 1898. Nos 32-33 are a modern redevelopment included to provide a continuous frontage only.
- iii) 65-73 Brighton Road
This small group comprises a terrace of three early cottages circa 1840, two of which have had small front extensions when converted to retail units. The Lamb is an attractive pub being a 1914 rebuild. This group although of a modest scale and damaged by the advertisement hoardings (which are subject to investigation) complete the townscape to the Brighton Road and Maple Road junction.

AMALGAMATION OF PARTS OF EXISTING CONSERVATION AREAS AND PROPOSED ADDITIONAL BUILDINGS

9. The attached plan proposes a new conservation area boundary to be known as the Surbiton Town Centre Conservation Area to include the additional groups of buildings described above and the commercial parts of the Claremont Road, St Andrews Square and Victoria Avenue Conservation Areas. The boundaries of those conservation areas would need to be amended accordingly. The benefit to be gained from this proposal are:-
  - i) More extensive controls over the identified additional areas of special architectural or historic interest the character or appearance of which it is desirable to preserve or enhance.
  - ii) The creation of one conservation area with a coherent commercial character for which it will be more straightforward to produce policies and proposals for the preservation and enhancement of its character. Similarly the existing conservation areas will have a predominantly residential character.

- iii) The creation of a stronger, more extensive area to justify attraction of financial and other incentives from outside organisations. Part of Victoria Road has already attracted some support from English Heritage for a grant aid scheme which is the subject of another report of this agenda. This conservation area proposal would strengthen similar future applications.
- iv) The creation of a more easily identified area upon which to harness public interest and support. The success of conservation relies on the understanding and enthusiasm of property owners, traders and amenity organisations such as the Chamber of Commerce.

CONSULTATION ON PROPOSED DESIGNATION

- 10. Support for this proposal has been informally obtained from English Heritage, The Surbiton Conservation Areas Advisory Committee and the Surbiton Revitalisation Advisory Working Party. Extensive consultation procedures were undertaken when the existing Claremont Road, St Andrew Square and Victoria Avenue Conservation Areas were designated including the leafleting of individual properties. There was some support during these exercises from the Kingston upon Thames Society, Surbiton Central Area Residents Association and English Heritage to include parts of the areas now proposed for designation.
- 11. It is proposed in keeping with the adopted procedures that the following bodies be consulted on the proposed designation:- The Kingston upon Thames Society, The Kingston upon Thames Archaeological Society, English Heritage, The Victorian Society, the Surbiton and District Chamber of Commerce, the Surbiton Central Area Residents Association, The Surbiton Revitalisation Advisory Working Party. Additionally owners and occupiers of all units within properties not currently within a conservation area will be consulted on the question of the designation of the proposed area and the implications of the extra legal controls. It is not proposed to consult those properties within the existing three conservation areas as there is no legal or other consequences arising from a change in conservation area boundary and title.

RECOMMENDATIONS

- 12. It is RECOMMENDED that:

- (i) the proposal to designate the Surbiton Town Centre Conservation Area as shown on Plan No 91/034/B be adopted for the purpose of public consultation;
- (ii) the owners and occupiers of all units within properties at 18-48 Brighton Road, 32-48 Victoria Road and 65-73 Brighton Road; and the Kingston upon Thames Society, The Kingston upon Thames Archaeological Society, English Heritage, the Victorian Society, the Surbiton and District Chamber of Commerce, the Surbiton Central Area Residents Association, the Surbiton Conservation Area Advisory Committee, and the Surbiton Revitalisation Advisory Working Party be consulted on the proposed designation of the Surbiton Town Centre Conservation Area; and

(iii) a further report be submitted to this committee with the results of the public consultation exercise and the consequential revisions to the boundaries of the Claremont Road, St Andrews Square and Victoria Avenue Conservation Areas.

19 JUNE 1991

PROPOSED DESIGNATION OF SURBITON TOWN CENTRE CONSERVATION AREA
AND EXTENSIONS AND REVISIONS TO THE BOUNDARIES OF THE CLAREMONT
ROAD, ST ANDREWS SQUARE AND VICTORIA ROAD CONSERVATION AREAS

REPORT BY DIRECTOR OF DEVELOPMENT

PURPOSE

1. To agree the boundary of the proposed Surbiton Town Centre Conservation Area and the boundaries of extensions to the St Andrews Square Conservation Area, to authorise the statutory procedures to enable their formal designation as conservation areas, and to revise the boundaries of the existing conservation areas affected by the proposed new Surbiton Town Centre Conservation Area.

BACKGROUND

2. On 3 April 1991 a report was presented to the Development Committee proposing the creation of a new conservation area based on Surbiton Town Centre to include parts of Claremont Road, Saint Andrews Square and Victoria Avenue Conservation Areas. The Committee resolved that the proposal be adopted for public consultation, that the owners and occupiers of all units within properties at 18-48 Brighton Road, 32-48 Victoria Road and 65-73 Brighton Road, the Kingston upon Thames Society, the Kingston upon Thames Archaeological Society, the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission, the Victorian Society, the Surbiton and District Chamber of Commerce, the Surbiton Central Area Residents Association, the Surbiton Conservation Areas Advisory Committee, and the Surbiton Revitalisation Advisory Working Party be consulted on the proposed designation of the neighbourhood as a conservation area, and, a further report be submitted to this Committee with the results of the public consultation exercise and the consequential revisions to the boundaries of the Claremont Road, St Andrews Square and Victoria Avenue Conservation Areas.
3. As a result of the consultations the Surbiton Central Area Residents Association suggested the inclusion of unspecified additional properties along Saint Andrews Road within the new conservation area. In view of the domestic nature of these properties and their location close to the St Andrews Square Conservation Area consideration has been given to the including the properties within the latter conservation area. A comprehensive review of the boundaries of the St Andrews Square conservation Area has identified additional properties in St James Road worthy of inclusion within the conservation area. The proposal has therefore been taken a stage further and copies of a letter outlining the proposal and the implications for owners, occupiers, and the Council were distributed to these properties seeking comments on the proposal. Any replies will be reported verbally to the Committee.

CONSULTATION ON THE PROPOSED DESIGNATION

4. Details of the proposal were sent to the following organisations and their comment invited:
- (i) the Kingston upon Thames Society
  - (ii) the Kingston upon Thames Archaeological Society
  - (iii) the Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission
  - (iv) the Victorian Society
  - (v) the Surbiton and District Chamber of Commerce
  - (vi) the Surbiton Central Area Residents Association
  - (vii) the Surbiton Conservation Areas Advisory Committee
  - (viii) the Surbiton Revitalisation Advisory Working Party
5. Additionally, a consultation package was delivered to each property unit in the area containing a letter detailing the historical background of the area, the reasons for designation, a plan outlining the proposed boundary, and a comment sheet for return in a reply-paid envelope. The public were given three weeks in which to reply to the consultation letter. An exhibition board including a large scale plan outlining the proposed boundaries, and photographic material illustrating features which designation is intended to preserve, was available for viewing in the reception area to the Department of Development from 7 May to 28 May 1991.

RESULTS OF THE PUBLIC CONSULTATION EXERCISE

6. The organisations consulted in paragraph 3 replied as follows:
- (i) Kingston upon Thames Society: No reply as at 6 June 1991.
  - (ii) Kingston upon Thames Archaeological Society: Letter of 21 May 1991 stating the society have no observations.
  - (iii) Historic Buildings and Monuments Commission: No reply as at 6th June 1991.
  - (iv) Victorian Society No reply as at 6th June 1991.
  - (v) Surbiton and District Chamber of Commerce: No reply as at 6th June 1991.
  - (vi) Surbiton Central Area Residents Association: SCARA suggested that the St Andrews Road Conservation Area be extended to include unspecified properties on St Andrews Road. The Association also expressed concern about the inclusion of Nos 40-48 Brighton Road, and argued that if they are only to be included in order to create a "continuous frontage" then in its opinion the same argument could be used to include the portion of the south side of Victoria Road east of the Sainsbury's Car Park.

- (vii) Surbiton Conservation Areas Advisory Committee: SCAAC was in favour of the proposed conservation area as detailed on plan 91/034/B, although on an earlier occasion SCAAC had suggested the inclusion of the complete south side of Victoria Road.
- (viii) Surbiton Revitalisation Advisory Working Party: The principle and proposed boundary of the new conservation area received full support from the working party.
7. A total of 103 consultation letters were delivered to the properties listed in paragraph 2. 13 replies in favour of the proposal were received. Two objections were made, the first on the grounds that many of the existing buildings are no longer capable of serving the needs of today, and the second that developments on the section of Brighton Road outside the proposed boundary have degraded the area to such an extent that there is no point in including Nos 65-73 Brighton Road in the proposed new conservation area. No additional comments were received regarding the proposed boundary or suggestions for the inclusion of further properties within the conservation area.

ADDITIONAL CONSULTATIONS

8. The results of the additional consultations will be reported verbally to the Committee. The properties consist of approximately 40 residential units, (contained in eight Victorian properties and one modern block of flats) the Area Health Authority offices at Claremont hospital, and one retail unit.

CONSIDERATION OF THE CONSULTATION REPLIES

9. SCARA suggested that on the basis of the inclusion of 40-48 Brighton Road the greater part of the south side of Victoria Road should be included within the conservation area, in order to create a continuous frontage. SCAAC also asked for consideration to be given to including this area. 40-48 Brighton Road were built in 1987 before the designation of the opposite side of the road as part of the Victoria Avenue Conservation Area. The three storey block is built of red brick with an artificial slate roof laid to a shallow pitch. The ground floor consists of retail units and the upper floors are residential. It is accepted that 40-48 Brighton Road are of a different appearance to the rest of this section of Brighton Road, but their overall height and bulk do respect that predominant in the area, and it is considered valid to include the block within the conservation area. The situation on the south side of Victoria Road is quite different with a long run of buildings of a later, mainly post-war, date and of a different character to those on the north side. The appearance of the south side of Victoria Road is also different as the height of the buildings is characteristically of only two storeys as opposed to the three of the rest of the proposed conservation area. The inclusion of such a large quantity of later buildings of a different character and appearance is not desirable as it would dilute the character of the proposed conservation area as a whole. In addition it should be noted that the inclusion of 40-48 Brighton Road is to allow a continuous frontage with buildings of merit on all sides, whereas the south side of Victoria Road would be on the edge of the conservation area and is not considered worthy of inclusion on its own merits.

10. SCARA also suggested the inclusion of additional properties on St Andrews Road. Nos 1a, 1-8 St Andrews Road were built between 1860 and 1880 and are contemporary with the rest of the properties in the St Andrews Square Conservation Area. They are three storey buildings of yellow London stock bricks with red brick dressings. The properties were omitted from the area originally designated owing to the different architectural detailing used in their construction. Although different in appearance the fact that the buildings are contemporary to the rest of the conservation area and of some intrinsic merit makes their inclusion in the St Andrews Square Conservation Area desirable during the present revision of the boundaries of the area. Evesham Terrace is a modern building constructed in 1982 and its alien form and character make its inclusion in the conservation area wholly undesirable.
11. Map 91/085/B illustrates the suggested revised boundary of the St Andrews Square Conservation Area. From this it may be seen that a section of the Claremont Road Conservation Area is separated from the rest by the proposed Town Centre Conservation Area. The detached area includes Nos 17-25 (odd) St James Road, large detached and semi-detached houses of a domestic character and appearance and accordingly it is proposed to include these within the predominantly residential St Andrews Square Conservation Area. In contrast the club No 34 St James Road is currently in non-domestic use and has been identified in the draft UDP as a proposal site for retail uses, amongst others, and accordingly it is considered most appropriate to include this property within the new Town Centre Conservation Area. Additionally it is suggested that the Claremont Hospital (No 60 St James Road, built in 1882), No 64 St James Road (Built before 1860) and the more modern Suffolk Court, St James Road, should be included within the extended St Andrews Square Conservation Area. The Hospital is built of yellow London stock with red brick dressings and is a memorable feature of the streetscape and important reminder of the past history of Surbiton. It should be noted that the Hospital is opportunity site No P.S 59 in the draft UDP. Its inclusion in a conservation area will not alter this situation but will enable special consideration to be given to the contribution of the existing or any proposed replacement building on the character and appearance of the conservation area in the determination of any planning application for the site.
12. The first of the respondents recorded in paragraph 7 suggested that the area should not be designated as a conservation area as many of the existing buildings are, in his opinion, no longer capable of serving the needs of today. It should be noted that the designation of an area as a conservation area does not prohibit redevelopment, but only ensure that when determining an application special consideration is paid to preserving the character and appearance of the area. The second respondent did not suggest that his own house was not of merit, only that the properties beyond the boundary were unsuitable for inclusion in a conservation area. The properties immediately north of the Balaclava Road junction with Brighton Road are particularly important in the context of the conservation area as they frame the junction and close long views down the road. Neither of these adverse comments provide a genuine reason against the designation of the area as a conservation area.

CONCLUSIONS

13. The public consultation exercise has shown that there is local support for the proposal to designate a conservation area to cover the historic core of Central Surbiton. The suggestion to include the south side of Victoria Road is undesirable owing to the later nature and different character of the area. The proposed designation will require the reorganisation of the boundaries of the Claremont Road, Saint Andrews Square and Victoria Avenue Conservation Areas. The suggested new boundaries are shown on plans 91/083/B, 91/084/B, 91/085/B, and 91/087/B.
14. Although the views of owners and occupiers affected by the proposal to include 1a, 1-8 (inclusive) St Andrews Road, Claremont Hospital, Suffolk Court and No 64 St James Road within the St Andrews Square Conservation Area are not known at the time of writing any replies will be reported verbally to the Committee. These buildings, which clearly have a positive role to play in the streetscape of the area, can then be included in the St Andrews Square Conservation Area to complete this comprehensive review of Surbiton's conservation areas and to enable the Council to consider the preservation of its special character when determining planning applications for the area.

RECOMMENDATIONS

15. It is RECOMMENDED that:

- (i) the boundary of the proposed Surbiton Town Centre Conservation Area as shown on plan 91/087/B to include parts of the existing Victoria Avenue, Claremont Road and St Andrews Square Conservation Areas, and additional properties Nos 18-48 Brighton Road, 32-48 Victoria Road and 65-73 Brighton Road, be approved;

- (iv) the necessary statutory procedures for the designation of extensions and revisions to the boundary to the Saint Andrews Square Conservation Area as shown on plan 91/085/B, under Sections 69 and 70 of the Planning (Listed Buildings and Conservation Areas) Act, 1990, be carried out;
